As a software developer on this project, I want to get the MEVA web app to a state where it can be tested by non-developers.

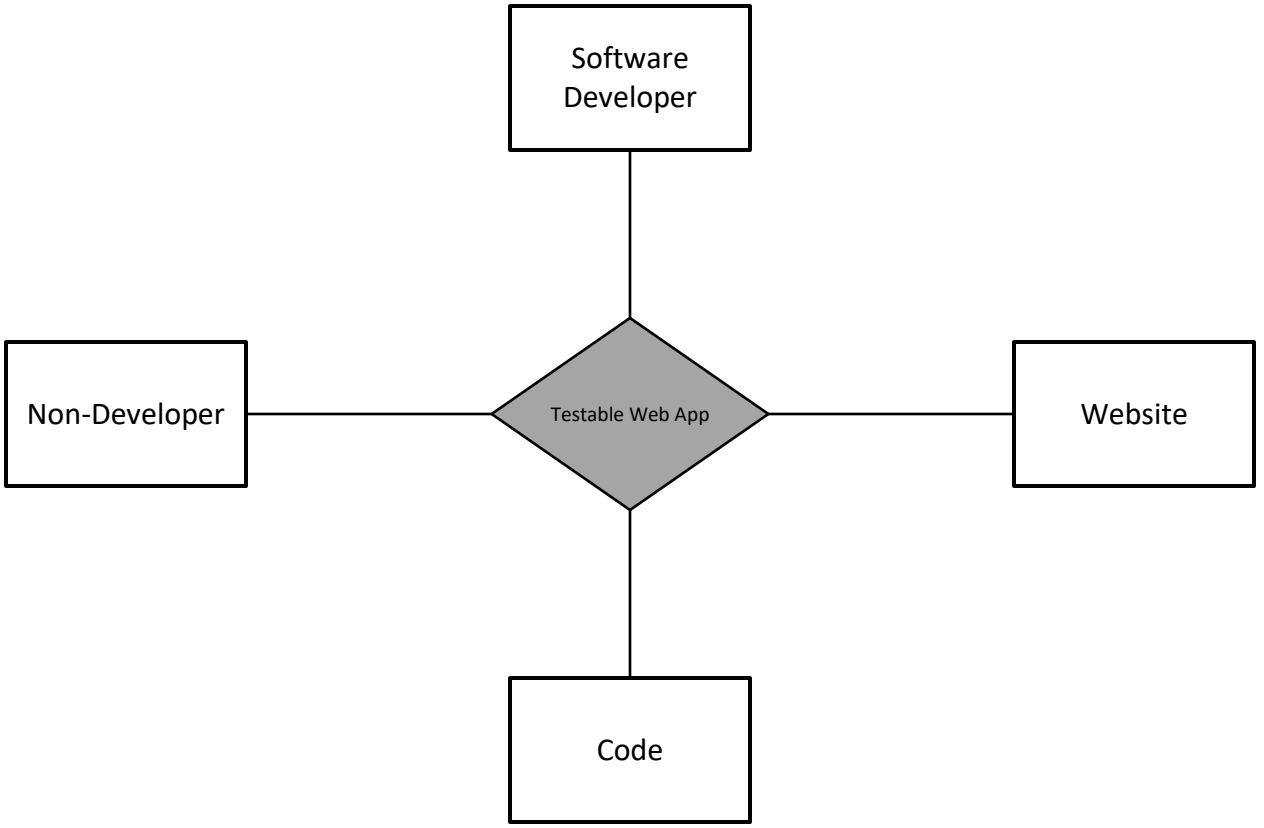

As a documentation specialist on this project, I want all of the documentation to be readily available and up to date in the GitHub repository.

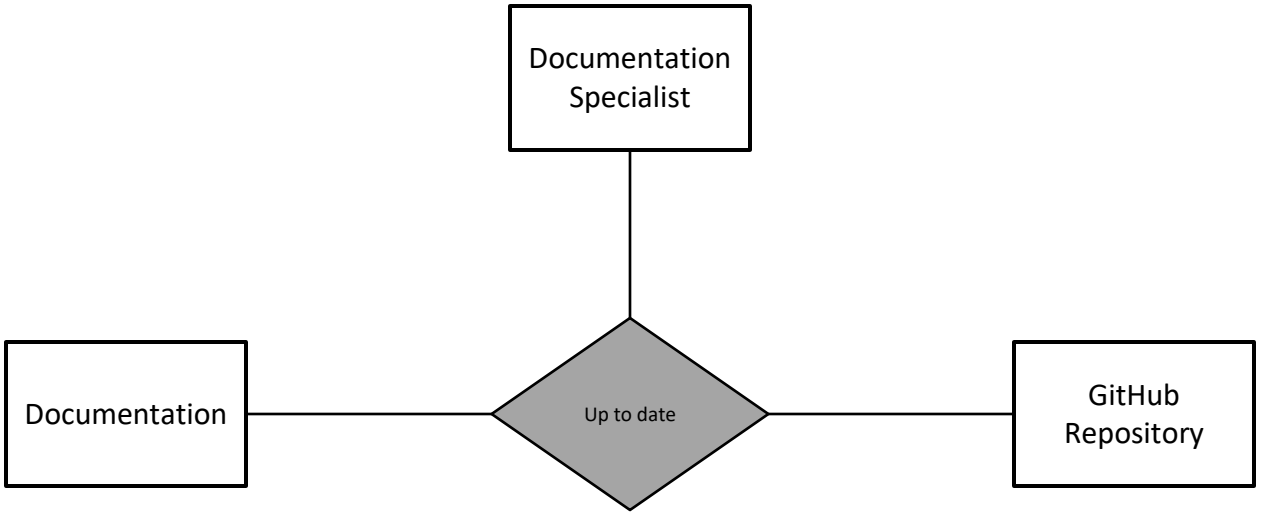

As a database developer on the MEVA project, I want to connect the database layer to the API layer, so that captured data is safely stored for later reference.

As a software developer on this project, I want to get the MEVA web app to a state where it can be tested by non-developers.

As a documentation specialist on this project, I want all of the documentation to be readily available and up to date in the GitHub repository.

As a database developer on the MEVA project, I want to connect the database layer to the API layer, so that captured data is safely stored for later reference.

